"It's Time For Moving On"

We've traveled a long, long time together, and there have been a lot of good things on the way.
But now, it's almost time for leavin',
and things I feel inside are very hard to say.
But it's time for moving on my friend,
I hold back all the tears and sorrow,
It finally is time to go our sep'rate ways.

And I want to wish you well my friend
as we search for new tomorrows.
Go as you must but please
Don't forget our yesterdays.

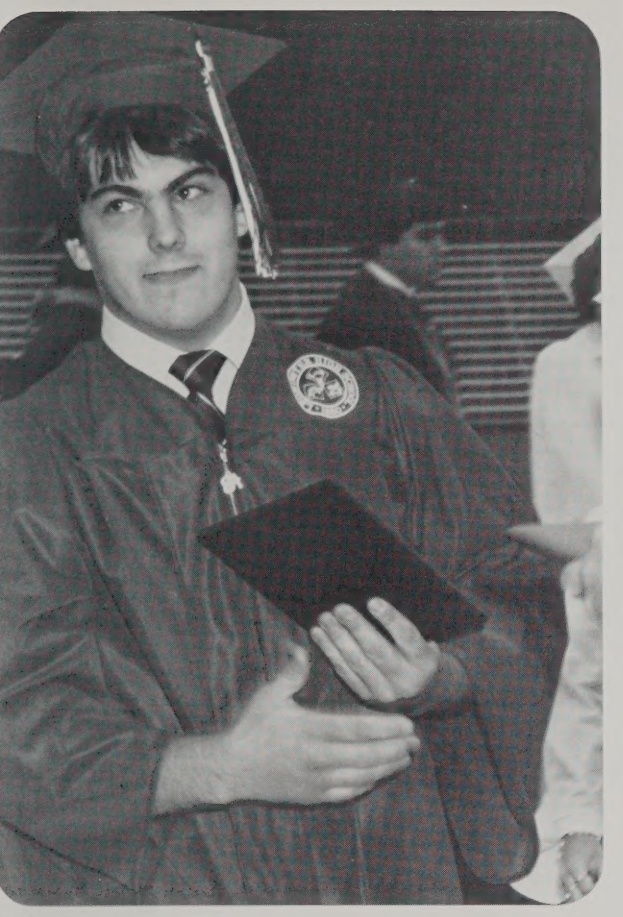

Remember the dreams we dreamed together
All of the joys we shared in getting to today.
Now just one time before you leave me reach out and take my hand and help me walk away.

It's time for moving on.
Don't forget our yesterdays.
It's time for moving on . . .

Thanks For Everythi

ng "Mom" Johnson . . .

We, the members of the Class of 1984, would like to extend our gratitutde to the woman who has helped to make our four years at L.H.S. such an enriching experience.

As our class advisor, Mrs. Johnson had to pick up the pieces of past advisors during our busiest year. However, she was well-organized and her devotion and enthusiasm were an immense help in planning the prom. Mrs. Johnson could always be seen helping out at our class activities. Be it dances, the rally, prom committee, . . . we could always depend on her guidance and rationality.

Most importantly though, Mrs. Johnson will be remembered as a special friend to many of us. She was always there to listen to our problems, class-related or personal, and to offer us sound advice in her caring way.

Thank you, Mrs. Johnson, for being our advisor, our friend, our "mom". You've truly enriched our lives and this dedication is a small token of our appreciation.

To my fellow classmates:

We live in a world where everything is given a title. We were given the "title", Class of 1984. This name gave us purpose, direction, and more importantly, a reason to be proud; not so much in what we have accomplished, but in who we are. It gives us the determination to go into the future confident that we will succeed.

It is now time for us to leave, but we leave Leominster High, not the Class of 1984. We will belong to this class, and the class to us, forever. The laughter, tears, successes and failures we have shared will always be here for us to learn from and re-experience.

As I walk through the halls of L.H.S. I notice many things: the conversation of friends, the heat of arguments, and the elation of people when they have realized success. I suppose that if I would have taken that walk five years ago I would have noticed the same things; but there is something unique about our class that sets us apart. Even from the beginning this was true. We chose not to follow the precedent of others, but rather we fashioned our own. Maybe the reason for this is that we are a class of individuals whose goals are so diverse.

This marks the final time that I, as President, will be able to communicate with you before we go on our separate roads. I wish to thank you for your criticism and confidence in me as your President. These past four years were unlike anything I have experienced.

I wish you good luck and bid you farewell.

Sincerely,

Wayne R. Daigle

The Class of 1984 will always be remembered as the class that sets precedents. This is a title of which we should be proud. Rather than being a group of bland conformists, we exercised our individuality and proved successful every time.

As freshman, we entered L.H.S. timidly at first but then with the help of advisors Mrs. Breau and Mr. McDermott, we quickly adjusted. By the end of our first year at the high shcool, we had already distinguished ourselves academically, theatrically, and athletically.

In our sophomore year, Proposition 2 ½ thrust many changes upon us. We saw the end of the 7 period day. Many teachers had been laid off, among them both our class advisors. This is when Mr. Harvey Bernard came through for us and became our class advisor. We began to realize that no setback was too great to keep us from "movin' on."

Proud Juniors, we encountered another problem: We lost another class advisor to budget cuts. We then were fortunate enough to find Mrs. Phyllis Johnson and Mr. Michael Vaillette. These two came through in a bind and helped us to plan one of the most successful proms ever.

"Mighty-Mighty Seniors"- We are leaving Leominster High glowing with pride in our achievements. Perhaps the most memorable activities were the 100th Thanksgiving Day Game and Rally. With a committee headed by Sarah Bernier, Lucia Bisol, and Dina Mammone, we were able to hold a rally that sent our football team off to a victory. And who can forget the players' roast? Two of the most amusing comedians were Adrienne Epstein as Robert Salvatelli and Lynne Spadafora as Douglas Hatfield. She strutted up to the microphone and declared "The name is Goudy Dubois!" In addition to our football team, the basketball, soccer, and chess teams were extremely successful.

Theatrically, our class was very impressive. Our musical, "Mack and Mabel" was a smash hit. Robert Lefevbre performed beautifully, even with a broken nose! Lisa Lipkind and Dawn Tocci both had spectacular performances as Mabel. The Senior Class Play, "Harvey," was a huge success. Shepard Awards went out to Matt Longo, best actor; Beth Pirro, best actress; Wendi Philpotts, best supporting actress; and Doug Blair, best supporting actor. Our proudest moment was our long victory in the Interclass Play Competition, with "The Cave," under the direction of Debbie Boucher and Lynne Spadafora.

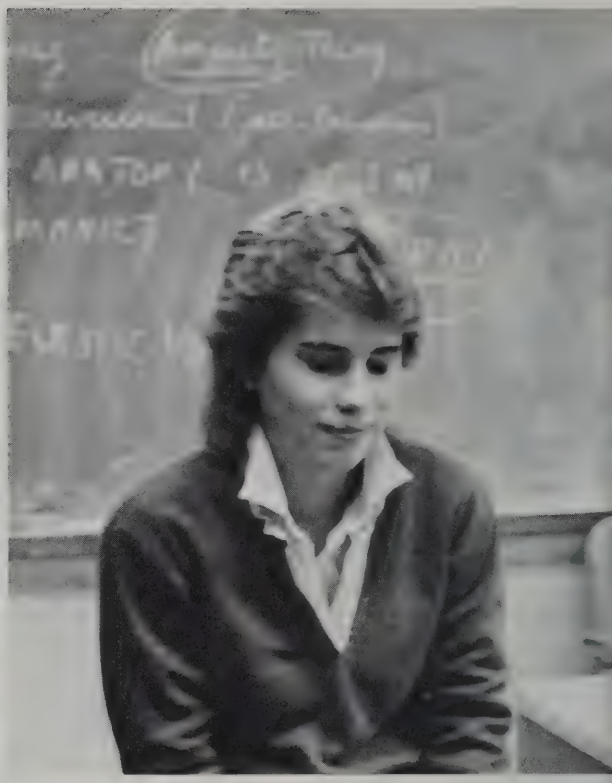

They are not dead; life's flag is never furled. They passed from world to world.

Images Of '83-'84

Three hundred thousand marched in Washington and recalled the days when Martin Luther King Jr. had a dream: James Watt talked himself out of a job, and physicist Sally Ride became the first American woman in space. Rita M. Lavelle swore that she didn't do anything wrong as head of EPA's non-cleanup of toxic waste. (The jury that convicted her of perjury disagreed.) Every six months there were twice as many Americans with the incurable and often fatal affliction known as AIDS. (To date, 1,225 have died.)

Study halls are worthwhile.

As freshmen many of us were accustomed to study hall in the cafeteria. I suppose that was one place where we became friendly with people that were to follow. Four years ago we sat in the cafe and were allowed to talk, laugh and have a good time. However, as sophmores it was study in the C-wing for the majority of us. Old rooms and no talking was expected but not accepted. In the 11th grade many of us had study in the new rooms in the C section, such as C 205. Remember the room which was like an icebox in the winter, and in the spring it was hot because there weren't any windows. Now, making it to our senior year, we are all dispersed. Some seniors help out in the underclassmen's gym classes, while others spend time in the guidance office. We spend time looking up colleges, using the computer, talking with guidance counselors, asking each other how to do algebra homework, or whatever else needs to be done. However, most of the time we just talk about what's new in our lives.

No matter where you spend your study periods, its a time most likely spent with friends, and even if talking is forbidden, having friends near makes the fifty minutes of study hall all worthwhile.

One event that seldom resulted in anything short of excitement at Leominster High School was an assembly. Whether we gathered to listen to campaign speeches, to watch a film, or to discuss class business, it was always the perfect break in the monotony of "that same old routine."

Many students, during their campaigning escapades, resorted to that all to common "Vote for me" speech. Yet a few speeches will simply never be forgetten. For instance, Derek Goldberg announced to the class that the only reason he was running for the office of Student Council Rep. was because it "looks good on my college resume!"? Dina Mammone impressed all with her poetic ability and made her entire speech rhyme. Another outstanding speech was one of Class President Wayne Daigle. In this rhetoric he described the many tactics of speech giving, including the "insult method", the "wimp tactic", and the "straight-forward manner". No one has yet decided which of these Wayne used when he presented this speech.

During our stay here at L.H.S., the class of '84 sat through over fifty campaign speeches. Of all these, Robert A. Salvatelli's was by far the most memorable: "Ask not what your class can do for you, but what you can do for your class."

Patxi Arrutia

Landene 8 30 Drch.
Algorta, Vizcaya Spain

At the beginning of the year there were many excited whispers circulating about "that new boy". We were even more impressed when we discovered that this smiling friend was adjusting to the incredible change that foreign exchange students undergo.

Patxi decided to come to Leominster to learn more about the American people and language. One of his best experiences has been his involvement on athletic teams - soccer and swimming. Patxi is well-liked by all at LHS, including the faculty who praise his high academic achievements. The feeling is mutual, as Patxi likes LHS better than his home school. He says that the teachers are more helpful and the classes are very interesting. His all-time favorite class is English with the ever witty Mr. Fredd.

Friends are important to Patxi and he has plenty of them. He feels that one of the main reasons his year has been so enjoyable is because his classmates have been so kind and friendly. He has attended dances, rallys, and football games, and is impressed with the school spirit.

As for the future, Patxi is planning to go into the engineering field, perhaps staying in the U.S., attending WPI.

Patxi is very glad that he made the decision to come to Leominster, and so are we. He has put a smile on many faces and been the bright spot in many students' senior year. When we remember Patxi, it will be with a smile for the inspiration and happiness he's brought us, and tears of regret that we've only had one year together. Thanks Patxi, for sharing your life with us.

What's Cookin'

Foods is one class that is restricted only to seniors, and is regarded as somewhat of a "gut course". Many seniors anxiously await this chance to take it easy, yet to their surprise, this class isn't always fun and games. In the beginning, the students are confined to answering the multitude of questions at the end of each chapter, and completing millions of worksheets.

Next comes the part for which the entire class has been waiting. It is time to bake, and put all that they've learned to use. It is a lot of fun to see fellow students bake things just like mother makes.

The most difficult part of all is the clean-up. The dishes aren't so bad to wash but the clothes can't be cleaned until you get home!

Just one reminder to those Foods students who in years to come may forget some of the helpful hints learned in this class; "Just look it up in your 'Betty Crocker Cook Book'."

You Gotta Have Arts!

Here in the art department of Leomister High School, creativity abounds. They have taken a major part in decorating the hallways for rallies and making posters to advertise events.

Anyone travelling through the E-wing of the school has seen the murals of popular musicians from the past three decades, right into the eighties. Some of the stars featured in these wall paintings are Bing Crosby, Lawrence Welk, Elvis Presley, the Beatles, Ray Charles, Van Halen, Queen, Journey, and the Police. The most special portrait of all on the walls of this hallway is that of Mr. Egidio Bisceglia, our band leader.

Thanks to the art department, walking down this hallway is like waltzing down memory lane, as you watch the musical medley of many different eras pass before your eyes.

Home, Sweet Home

Homework - Doesn't it seem as if teachers have a schedule that they follow? "On Thursday nights we'll all give homework." At 2:00 you go to your locker and three ten-pound books end up in your arms to be carried home: The locker is left empty.

Have you ever watched where people do homework? Study hall is a pretty popular place - and if it gets finished there, you need not bring it home. The cafeteria is a good place too. It's done here if you didn't get through with it the night before. However, the most popular place to do homework is in homeroom. It's amazing how much work can be done in fifteen minutes. It is often forgotten in the locker, on the kitchen table, or after stuffing it in your jean's pocket, it goes through the wash and is ripped to shreds. Or maybe it's just plain lost.

No matter what your feelings are about homework, it's popular among teachers and is here to stay. Just remember, teachers correct homework - and that takes time.

Another type of homework is done by the House Carpentry Shop. Every year they build a house which is auctioned off the previous year. By building a house the students are able to apply the skills learned in their Freshman and Senior years.

The house being bult this year is for Mr. and Mrs. James Despo. It's a seven room Cape, with two bathrooms and a one door garage. It is located on Country Lane in Leominster.

Can You Spare A Dime?

How many candy bars have you bought in school when the teacher wasn't watching? On how many balloons, buttons, and other Blue Devil paraphernalia have you spent you hard earned money? How much change have you lost in the coke machine?

Each time you emptied your pockets to purchase one of these items, it was for a worth while cause. Student Council, the Ski Club, DECA, the Chess Club, the Yearbook Staff, and the Theatre classes are all included in the endless list of organizations that held fund raisers. Not one club or athletic team could escape the need for cash.

Carnation sales were among the most popular fundraisers. Some obscure methods of distributing flowers include deliveries by Cupid on Valentine's Day, and by monsters on Halloween.

No matter how the carnations were delivered, they were always fun to receive.

100TH™

LEOMINSTER VS. FITCHBURG

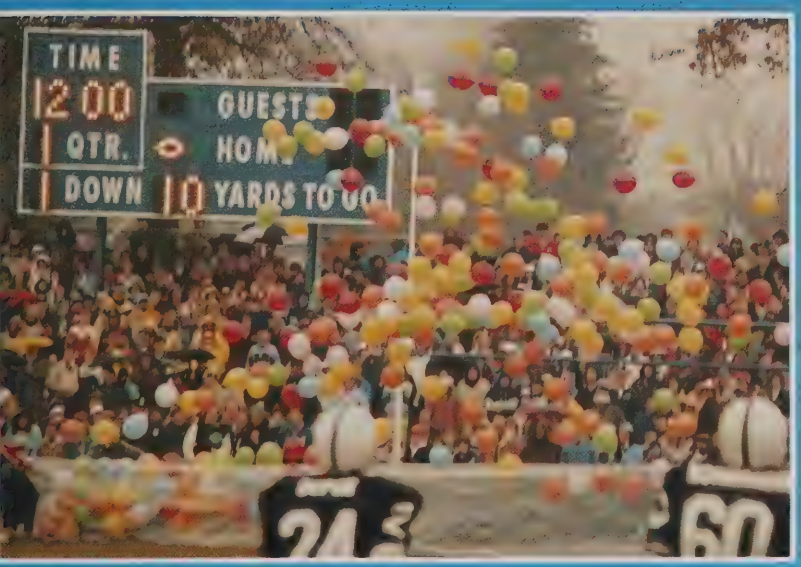

As seniors we have reached the milestone of graduating and leaving Leominster High.

Over the past year there have been other milestones, warm experiences that have been shared with friends, family, or experienced individually. One of the most memorable events occured at Doyle Field on November 24, 1983 when rivals Leominster and Fitchburg High met on the football field for the 100th time.

Although Thanksgiving Day was rainy and gloomy, nothing could dampen our spirits. Decked out in the traditional blue and white garb, a record number of fans showed their L.H.S. pride. Doyle Field was painted with the official 100th game logo, and sportscaster Bob Lobel came to witness "our" game, which made the 6:00 news. When you make the Boston news you know you're pretty special.

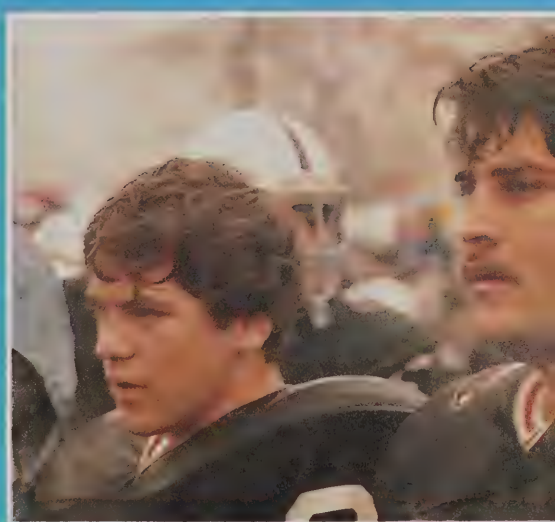

What a game it was! We believed in our winning team, and proved it to all who were there. L.H.S. was again victorious, winning 28-12. As it now stands, the L.H.S. hundred year record is 46 wins, 45 losses, and 9 ties - a record to be proud of.

The 100th turkey day game is something unique to our class, and certainly a memory we will always treasure. I think it's safe to say that most of us will return on Thanksgiving Days to come to cheer the future football teams, and re-capture the special feeling we shared that rainy day at Doyle Field.

The Best Of Friends

Friends, they are priceless. We've made so many along the way. We will cherish the memories of these treasures long after our high school days have passed. All of the special times we've shared with one another will forever be in our dreams. So many of these dreams have been created these past few years. Dreams of laughter and good times, happiness and cheer, have all come true here at Leominster High School. Our friendships began to bud long ago, and will continue to grow and bloom as time marches on.

Auto Body

Students in the Auto Body department learn to work on all parts of an automobile. They learn the basics such as straightening frames and uniconstruction bodies, the repairing of doors and fenders, and using new parts to replace damaged ones. They are also taught the finishing touches like masking, sanding, and spray painting.

The instructor, Mr. Zakoin, also instructs the students in the finer points of auto body work including buffing and polishing, interior and exterior reconditioning, pinstriping and classic paint job.

With the variety of skills they learn, in this department, these students will have successful careers working in auto body shops and many will eventually own their own businesses.

Auto Mechanics

The learning environment of the Auto Mechanics class is obviously under and around automobiles. Students learn the basics of automotive repair such as brakes, clutch, cooling system, lubrication, engine suspension, and transmission. Students work on the various jobs brought in the shop ranging from minor tune ups to major overhauls. During Mr. Hatch's illness this year, Mr. Leblanc has worked with Mr. Gilbert to train the auto mechanics students well. This training and experience will be put to good use in a job area where the demand for qualified, competent people is always high.

Carpentry

During their first year in this department students will learn the proper use, care and safety of hand tools, power tools and millwork machinery. In the other years skills such as rough framing, boarding, shingling, exterior and interior trim, stair building, and cabinet work are put to use in building the trade school houses. Mr. Papagni in the shop, Mr. Burton in the classroom, and Mr. Laetz at the house have taught these students valuable skills which will serve them well in all aspects of their future lives.

Computers

The student in Computer Technology learns the skills of testing, maintaining, assembling and trouble-shooting a computer system Microprocessors and digitrainers are the electronic devices used by the student to build microprocessor computers. This year, students learned a lot about programming and basic electronics of Digital Pop-8e-ronics of Digital Pop-8e computers. Some of the projects that students participate in are repairing a computer from a local machine company, repairing the school's shop electrical tools, and building power supplies.

Most of the students plan to pursue a college education in the computer field, or to pursue jobs at computer technology companies. Their instructor, who has trained them well, is Mr, Tocci.

Drafting

Students in the Drafting program are taught the graphic language, the communication of information through use of pictures. Using these skills, these students learn to produce technical drawings of various items ranging from simple details of threads and gears to complicated layouts and designs for use in mechanics, injection molding, and wiring. Some students also learn structural building design or architecture.

Dave Landry; Adam Glannunzio; Mark Montaquila

Electronic

The Electronics student first completes an exploratory program. The student then proceeds to choose one of two areas of specialization for the following three years. The communications technician program prepares the student to enter the field of radio, television, C-B, and other communication systems repair trades. The industrial electronic and electric student gains a broad background in electricity, hydraulics, and refrigeration to serve as a base for future employment as an electrician or in the area of electromechanical maintenance.

Graphic Arts

In Graphic Arts students learn design and layout using computer typesetting machines and other typesetting methods. Students are taught various types of camera work and printing preparation. They learn how to operate and maintain offset presses and become familiar with the use of bindery equipment including cutters, folders, and staplers. Students are also taught cost estimating and billing procedures by their instructor, Mr. Ogert.

Students from his class place well in the job market. Special projects the department of graphic arts work on include various printing work for the city offices and the student handbook for the high school.

After a first year exploratory program, the Electronics student then has the choice of two areas of specialization. The first is the communications technician program in which students are trained to enter the field of radio, television, C-B, and other communications system repair trades.

The second choice is the industrial electronic and electric program in which the student learns about electricity, hydraulics, and refrigeration as preparation for careers as electricians or in the field of electro-mechanical maintenance.

Welding

In the Welding Shop students learn the skills needed to perform all types of welding; pipe, oxyacetylene, MIG and TIG. They also gain experience in oxyacetylene burning with radio-graphic machines, the techniques of metal fabrication, and silver and lead soldering.

Under the guidance of Mr. Mountzuris, these students work on various projects to benefit the school. In the future students from this department will secure the best welding jobs available or jobs closely related to their trade.

Freshmen-Senior Orientation

"We love you seniors, oh yes we do. We love you seniors, oh yes we do. When you're not near us we're blue. Oh seniors we love you."

Three long years ago as we paraded around the halls of Leominster High School wearing a ridiculous body-length sign, we were silently planning our revenge. Finally seniors, we smugly chuckled at the unsuspecting freshmen as they signed up for the program.

The program was implimented to ease the tensions of in-coming freshmen by paring them up with seniors. A different activity is planned for each day of the week long event. Among them are sign day and costume day. The favorite of all seniors though, is the "slave services" the freshmen perform - carrying books, delivering lunch trays, holding doors, and most infamous of all - singing!! The week wraps up with a pizza party and dance, only this time the rolls are reversed and the seniors serve the freshman.

Most students emerge from Freshman-Senior Orientation with many good memories and new friends. The freshman feel more at ease in their new environment while their seniors met many new friends and had a chance to indulge in some well-intentioned fun. It is an activity that is enjoyed by all. We will always remember our experiences during the week of activity - both as freshmen and as seniors.

The 1983 Leominster High School Varsity Football Team continued its successful winning ways by attaining a record of 9 wins, 2 losses and a trip to the District E Super Bowl. The highlights of the season were the two wins over perennial powerhouse Brockton and archrival Fitchburg. The Brockton victory was the most impressive because it occured at the Boxers home field, Marciano Stadium, before a large partison crowd. The outcome seemed grim, but with 1:21 left on the clock, quarterback Dave Palazzi handed the football off to fullback Rick Dandini who glided his way through the right side of the offensive line. The senior linemen, John Normandin, Ed Lagoy and Bob Salvatelli blew open the Boxer's defensive line allowing Dandini to juke and fake his way to a touchdown.

Throughout the season, the team was offensively led by seniors Doug Hatfield, John Connors, Mark Burnette, Sean Dupee, Bob Penning, Dan Valliere, Jamie Perla, Scott Kartanos, Craig Long and Larry Cordio. Juniors Jonathan Lanciani and Dave Cormier also made fine contributions to the team.

On Thanksgiving Day, the glorified 100th meeting between the Fitchburg Reed Raiders and the Leominster Blue Devils, took place in front of 12,000 fans at Doyle Field. The Blue Devils dominated the Raiders throughout the game. Mike Keogh sparked the offensive attack and received the most valuable player of the game for his efforts. The defense succeeded in holding the Raiders to low yardage and knocked out the starting quarterback. The Leominster victory put them on top of the series with an overall record of 46-45-9.

Even thought the team lost two games, the members showed great character and team spirit. The Blue Devils, along with the school, should be tremendously proud of the way the 1983 Blue Devil's carried on the long winning tradition of Leominster Varsity Football.

As has been in the past, this year's varsity soccer team proved to be no exception to the quality of play expected at Leominster High. The tri-captains of this years squad provided a foundation for the rest of the team to gain support from. Steve Drury, Mike Elliot and Mike Martinez had exceptional seasons as this year's captains, and with the combination of other seniors, Mark Matthews, Ron Ebb, Shayne Jordan and Aramis Gonzalez, the team earned the honor of being CO-CMC champs with a final record of 14-2-2.

Despite a loss in District play to Marlboro, this marked the sixteenth straight year since the inception of the soccer program at Leominster High that the team has qualified for District play.

This year's seniors would like to thank Coach Johnson for his continued support and wish him and the rest of the team the best of luck next season, and many more to come.

Varsity Field Hockey

The 1983-84 Field Hockey team, under the leadership of Coach Noreen McLaughlin, had a successful season. Leading the powerful offensive line were Co-captain Amy DeCarolis, Debbie sharos, Kristen Caisse, Shelly Mason and Maggie Regan,. Goalie Becca Boudreau played well and kept the team going. Co-captain Deanne Pananos led a tough defensive line along with Donna Johnston, Jill Myllykangas, Lynn Garrett, and Maribeth Walsh. The Most memorable game was against Wachusett, whose perfect record was ruined by the incredible playing of the Leominster team. Amy DeCarolis scored the only goal against Wachusett this season, and the game ended in a tie. This enthusiastic team made the district quarterfinals by finishing their last six games without a loss, only to have a heart-breaking loss to Westford, knocking them out of the playoffs. L.H.S. can be proud of this hardworking team.

Although suffering a disappointing season, the female harriers are looking forward to a more promising future, due to the increased interest in the cross country program, marked by the addition of eight welcome newcomers: Karen Gulliver, Heather McNall, Marykate Caponi, Barbara Harper, Melissa Lombaro, Kris Keogh, Nancy Miller, and Kara Cullins.

Megan McLaughlin, captain and most valuable player, had an outstanding season. Rookie Karen Gulliver was a pleasant suprise and often a threat to the top runners. Patti Roffee showed improvement this season and was a major asset to the team. Marykate Caponi, this year's most improved player, showed constant progress throughout the season, chopping 6½ minutes off of her premiere home course time.

Boys' Cross Country

With captains Kevin Crowley and Jamie Aubuchon leading the pack, the boys' cross country team had a great season. Although Kevin took the honors in the majority of dual meets, both captains were considered the top runners in the area- - - "the ones to look out for." Freshman Anthony Granata continued to better his times throughout the season and is sure to be a major asset to the team in the years to come. Anthony, Andy Hicks, John Walsh, and Tim Belanger ran well together, making it difficult for the opposition to break through. The team is looking forward to a strong season next year with only one graduating senior on this year's team.

The fact that the girls' swim team had an 0-9-1 record this year does not reflect the closeness of many meets. This year the team received not only a new coach, but also a complement of new swimmers. Through Coach Johnson's "unique" practices, the girls improved their times significantly. Kathy Reddy, Ann LeDuc, Tammy Robichaud, and Dawn Hefflefinger broke an eleven year old record in the 200 yd. Medley Relay. They continued to improve on their own record and ended the season at the North Sectional Championships where they finished twelfth with a time of 2:08.53. Congratulations to everyone who participated this year and best of luck next year from Annie B., Duck, Tam, and Polly.

Boys' Swimming

Led by Captains Steve Fluet and Andy Valeri, this year's squad posted a 9 - 6 record. Along with the captains, seniors Tony Bangrazi, Pat Arrutia, Ron Ebb, Dave LeBlanc, and Steve Hatfield had successful seasons breaking their times by considerable margins. Other members, including Kevin Fletcher, Mike Pirro, Mark Tluszcz, and Paul Neidich had exceptional times. The seniors want to wish Coach Johnson and next year's team the best of luck.

Girls' Varsity Basketball

The 1983-84 girls basketball team was led by Coach Joe Hickey and senior co-captains, Amy DeCarolis and Debbie Sharos. The girls were dedicated to their team, and put forth a great effort throughout the season. Especially notable, was the strong offense of captains, Amy Decarolis and Debbie Sharos. Michele Mason, Mindy Bodie, Ann-Marie LaFosse, and Maggie Regan also had good performances. Great assets to the team, with their strong defense, were: Lisa LeBlanc, Ann Landry, and Michele McHugh. Senior Michelle Sorrette also contributed to the team as an outstanding guard. Special congratulations are extended to Michele Mason-MIP, and Amy DeCarolis-CMC All Star.

Boys' Varsity Basketball

The Boys' Basketball Team completed an other winning season. The 1983-84 Blue Devils competed in the Central Mass. Conference and compiled a very successful 15 - 6 record, and reached the semi-finals of the prestigious District E Division One Tournament at Holy Cross College.

Among some memorable accomplishments were wins over Doherty, St. Peter's, Wachusett, and the defeat of Holy Name three times in one season. The team won 9 games in a row, captured the St. Bernard's Christmas Tournament, beat Holy Name in double overtime in the District Quarterfinal Game, and lost a heartbreaker to St. John's in the semi-final game of the Districts at Holy Cross before 2500 thrilled fans.

The 1983-84 team played exciting basketball, competed in a very competitive schedule, and came very close to winning it all. Congratulations on a fine season.

Wrestling

This year's wrestling team, coached by Jeff Roberts and Mike Lanza, finished the season with an impressive 9-4 record, the best in Blue Devils history. Tri-captains John Connors, Doug Hatfield, and John Normandin were a force on the team considered to be the most improved in the state. They set an example for the team: Connors placed sixth in the sectional tournament, Hatfield posted 10 victories, and Normandin pinned six victims. The most pleasant suprise of the season was Jaques Thebeau, who came back from a disappointing season last year not only to be named the most valuable player on the team, but also to be ranked 10th in the state. Senior MIP Fran Guillmette came back from an injury and battled his way to an undefeated season. Chris Rogers and Rodney Somma also contributed to the team. Underclassmen Scott Love, Tony DiNardo, and Charlie Thebeau were valuable to the team. Congratulations on a great year.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The L.H.S. Student Council was working before school started this year, with the Open House in August, where the incoming freshmen were given tours of the school. The social scene kicked off in September with the Four-Way Class Dance. The dance was run by Student Council and the Sophomore, Junior and Senior classes and one-fourth of the profit was given to help out the freshmen treasury.

November was named "Spirit Month", and the hundredth meeting between Leominster and Fitchburg in Thanksgiving. The Blue Devil spirit was running high. Devil fans showed their true blue colors with the Spirit Chain and the Hall Decorating Contest. Mayor Girouard judged the event and the Seniors took top prize. After Spirit Month was Students In Government Week. Lectures on government were given and Student Council held its Mock Mayoral Debate and Election. Social Studies classes registered and elected incumbant Mayor Girouard once again to office.

The Winter Carnival in February added some life to the dead of winter with events such as the infamous Snow Soccer Tournament and Dress-Up Days. The Massachusetts Assosiation of Student Council Convention was held at Dunfey's in Hyannis in March. This three day convention provided an opportunity for Leominster councilors to learn how to make a more effective council, and to get ideas on new and different fundraisers and events. The month of May brought the Student Council to a close with Interclass Plays, City Officials for a Day, and Spring Week, which is another week that includes more dress-up days, and the Street Hockey Tournament. This year's senior council members have left their mark on L.H.S. 's student government. For years to come, the students of Leominster High School will follow the class of '84's precedents.

Principal

George V. Antonucci

To the Class Of 1984

In reviewing our association at Leominster High School, I found you to be a very cooperative group of students when addressing changing programs. This illustrates a maturity that recognizes times are changing and the necessity of making adjustments to meet these changes. I feel, based on your past performance, you will succeed in life and wish you good health, a career of your choice and a happy family life.

Director, Leominster Trade H.S.

Robert T. Archibald

To the Class of 1984:

As you reach this plateau in your life and enter the world of work or further education, the day will come when your memories of your highschool years all seem good. The skills and attitudes acquired will be with you forever. Build on them, modify or mold them to fit the changing culture you are now entering. If you approach every new task or plateau knowing that you did your best, you will experience the same success you had during your high school years.

Assistant Principal

Peter S. Reinsch

To the Class of 1984:

I would like to congratulate all the members of the Class of 1984 upon your graduation from Leominster High School, and offer our best wishes and happiness to all of you.

Because of your excellent academic, athletic and social talents, we looked forward with anticipation to great successes at the high school and you did not disappoint us. You can be proud of your accomplishments.

Upon leaving Leominster High School you cannot change the world, but by working hard every day to make yourself a better person, socially and morally, you can make the world a better place for you and all the people with whom you come in contact.

Again, to all, I wish you happiness.

To The Class of 1984:

You have been a class of fulfillment; you came to us as freshmen full of promise and have certainly lived up to expectations. You have accomplished much in the past four years not only for yourselves but also for your school and community. Hopefully the future will bring the same for you; may you continue to live up to your potential and all live full and enriching lives.

Assistant Principal

Superintendent

Louis B. Ahearn

To the Class of 1984:

Much has been said and written recently about public education in our country. Your achievements to date are proof that our graduates of today are prepared to compete with those who have gone before you in the world's marketplace. You have been given a firm foundation for the challenges that await you. I have every confidence that you are prepared to confront those challenges and fulfill your responsibilities in a manner that will make all of us who are associated with Leominster High School proud. Finally, I wish to also extend my personal appreciation for the support, advice and assistance you have given to me in my first full year as Superintendent of Leominster Public Schools.

Best wishes in all of your endeavors.

Assistant Superintendent

Peter A. Mastrangeli

To the Class of 1984:

You can be justifiably proud of your individual and collective achievements. Each of you has taken your individual interests, abilities, and initiative and applied them to the opportunities made available to you by your parents and the Leominster Public Schools. Through that process you have attained your own level of success and achievement.

Your future will likewise be determined by your application of abilities, interests and motivation to the opportunities presented to you in your post high school years. Whether you choose to further your formal education or proceed directly into the work force, your degree of success will in large measure be determined by your own efforts. The old saying still applies, "You get out of it what you put into it." You are the key to your future. I extend my wishes for your future happiness.

To the Class of 1984:

I extend congratulations on your achievement here at Leominster High School and best wishes in your future endeavors to all of the members of the Class of 1984. It has been a distinct pleasure to have known many of you since your junior high school days. Your graduation this year represents years of diligence and growth. I sincerely hope that the experiences of the past years will serve as a solid foundation for your future success and self-awareness. Each of you possesses unique talents and skills, and it is the continuing development of these that I wish for you. This development will, I hope, assist all of you in maintaining a lifestyle where the achievement of personal goals as well as a commitment to service to others is possible.

Science means knowledge. In the past fifty years, man has learned more about his universe than he had in previous thousands of years of his existence. Accompanying this increased knowledge is a growth in technology which permits him to do his work better and faster than ever before. But this knowledge and technology has made his world more complex. Industrial economics have affected the environment so that there is now heated debate about the "greenhouse effect", and nuclear technology stirs explosive discussion about the future of the world.

The Science Department strives to give students an understanding of the world, of advances in science, and of their relation to these advances. Courses are offered for students with different needs, abilities, and interests, ranging from Descriptive Biology to Anatomy and Physiology and from Physical Science to Physics II.

Each student takes at least four years of English at Leominster High School. In addition to the standard English courses, which teach students composition and endeavor to instill ability for critical thought and self-expression, specialty courses in theater, speech, writing, and literature expand upon these skills and teach new ones. Material from classical Greek drama to twentieth century novels and plays are read and criticized. No student will forget reading George Orwell's 1984 during his high school years, and many will remember reading it more than once.

The Social Studies Department is operating with a vastly reduced program of courses, but, in addition to satisfying state requirements for the instruction of civics and U.S. History, it provides instruction in economics, current events, world history, psychology, and sociology, and geography. With the knowledge one acquires about the operation and history of his country, of foreign countries, and of individual men, one is better prepared to function in our democratic society.

The Business Education Department offers an extensive program designed to prepare students for the future. Courses to train people for entry-level postition in secretarial and clerical work are available while, at the same time, other students are prepared for college studies in business administration and finance. With the opening of the "1st Class Bank," a branch of Merchant's National Bank, Leominster High Students have a unique opportunity for on-the-job training in the banking field. In addition, the Business Ed Department is modernizing its equipment to give more realistic and current program while providing more marketable job skills. In addition to teaching students about business, the department actively assists its students in finding jobs, teaches the proper preparation of resumes, and sponsors an annual career day which provides opportunities to students for exploration of various employment prospects.

The Math Department strives to serve students with different needs. Whether from the logic of geometry, the structure of algebra, or the practicality of business math, technical math and calculus, all students benefit from the courses offered in this department. The department is in the midst of a vigorous self-improvement program. A course in pre-college math has recently been added, providing a valuable review of long-forgotten topics while teaching new skills. The institution of a full program of honors courses further exemplifies this progress. A thorough knowledge of mathematics becomes increasingly important in this world where technology is constantly advancing.

Up to four years of study in Spanish and five years in French are offered by the foreign language department at Leominster High School. Learning a foreign language is beneficial to every student for many reasons. First, one acquires the primary benefit, the ability to converse in a foreign language. Moreover, knowledge of a second language opens job opportunities for a student, increases his/her mastery of English, meets entrance requirements of many colleges, and makes it easier to learn other languages. After a brief absence, instruction of foreign languages will return next year to Carter and Gallagher junior high schools. The department expects this and other factors to increase enrollments in French and Spanish courses and to hopefully allow for the reinstitution of many languages previously offered at Leominster High. Despite the progress the foreign language department is undergoing, we will always remember our first years of study long ago . . . "Ou est Sylvie?"
